Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or manuscript. The text is written on aged, yellowed paper and includes several lines of text, some of which are crossed out or corrected. The handwriting is dense and difficult to decipher, but appears to be in a European language, possibly German or French. The document is labeled with a handwritten number '2' in the top right corner.

SeaHandPress.com is pleased to make this PDF edition of each book of Burney MS 86 (xi CE, also known as the Townley Homer) available to the public for free subject to the Creative Commons Attribution-Noncommercial-Share Alike 3.0 License that may be reviewed here: <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-sa/3.0/>.

This PDF is not subject to the Sea Hand Press license for personal use, and SeaHandPress.com does not claim a copyright in it.

One could at one time view hi-res images of this manuscript for free on screen using a Universal Viewer here: https://www.bl.uk/manuscripts/FullDisplay.aspx?ref=Burney_MS_86&index=88. However, online access to this important manuscript of the Iliad has been unavailable since the hack of the British Library in October 2023.

SeaHandPress.com asked Julian Harrison, Lead Curator, Historical and Literary Manuscripts at the British Library, the following question by email:

“If I were to download each page of a public domain manuscript from the Universal Viewer, convert each page to PDF format, crop each of the PDF pages, then compile those PDF pages into a single PDF, could I do whatever I wanted with that PDF (e.g. post it to archive.org)?”

Mr. Harrison responded, “Our terms do not prevent you from making and sharing a PDF in the way you describe.”

The digital bookmark of each PDF page identifies the first and last line number and folio page number. Please forward any corrections to editor@seahandpress.com.
